THE BROOK THEATRE

AT BOLINGBROOK HIGH SCHOOL

Welcome to The Brook Theatre!
We are excited to present this year's Fall Play

“TRAP”

An incomprehensible event: every person in the audience of a high school play falls unconscious — every person but one.

Using interviews with witnesses, loved ones, first responders, and the investigators pursuing the case, a theatre ensemble brings the story of the strange event to life, documentary-style. But as the strands weave together into an increasingly dangerous web, it becomes clear that this phenomenon might not be entirely in the past.

THE DIRECTOR'S NOTE

I have a love/hate relationship with suspense and horror films. I can't avert my eyes or plug my ears completely, but I'll try my hardest to get almost to that point. When I was a kid, I would run out of the room for jump scares, but still be just close enough that I could hear and still "experience" the movie. Even today in my 40s, I love a good scary movie, even though I'm 100% not walking through my dark house after a movie is over.

A former student of mine came up to me a few years ago after their first (second? I don't know, it's all blending together) year in college suggesting that I look at the script for the play that you're about to see. Somewhere in the 9 years that I've been directing the fall production, I've developed a "type" of play that I like to direct, according to my students.

I hate when they're right.

When I started to read Trap a little more than a year ago, I instantly was hooked. I can't go much more into why, but I love when a script gets me excited and brainstorming from stage one.

The product of that excitement from all sides of this program is what you're about to enjoy. It's a show that will push you, challenge you, confuse you, and hopefully will stick with you long after you leave your seat in about 75-90 minutes.

Special thank you to Carl Rupsis, Mark Wayne, Ariel Mozes, Karra Badakhshanian, Adam Thas, Jason Pascavage, Stephanie Wade, Corey Bassett, and Katie Hickey. My undying gratitude to all of our students who have poured themselves into this show day in and day out. I'm eternally proud of the work you all do!

Throughout his Highschool career he has had countless memorable nights hanging lights and programming cues during tech nights, lock-ins, and openings of shows both big and small.
